Notes:

1. This chart has been prepared on the basis of products that are approved and registered for the specified crops and diseases / pests. It also avoids the use of organo-phosphate or carbamate insecticides because from July 2015 new regulations will restrict the use of these products to home gardeners. However, in addition this chart includes a small number of 'off label' recommendations (highlighted in red text) which although not registered for, are commonly used because there are no other suitable products and / or they are used on similar crops. Where the chart indicates 'nothing available' - this means there is no effective treatment that is registered for use on the specified crop.
2. The chart has also been prepared on the basis of products that are available in home garden size packs, which do not require a qualified approved handler, and special storage facilities.
3. Products approved for use by organic growers are listed separately. These products are generally less effective, requiring more frequent application, often resulting in greater residues, and higher cost. Some organic growers use products that are natural plant extracts but are not registered / approved and are likely to be toxic. Some are known to be highly toxic. This chart only recommends registered, proven products, known to be safe, and commonly available to home gardeners.
5. Actual trade names have been used to make it easier for home gardeners to find the product.
6. Always consult the label for withholding periods for each product and each different crop.
7. Seek up to date charts each year as new safer and more effective products are regularly becoming available
